DIOCESAN STATEMENT ON JOHNSON & JOHNSON VACCINE

March 3, 2021

The recent approval of the Johnson & Johnson vaccine by the FDA to combat the COVID-19 pandemic has raised new moral concerns about the use of these vaccines. Unlike the Moderna and Pfizer vaccines, Johnson & Johnson uses a line of stem cells procured from abortions performed over 30 years ago in the production of its vaccine. Both the Pfizer and Moderna vaccines used an abortion-derived cell line in testing them, but not in their production.

The Vatican's Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith teaches, "when ethically irreproachable COVID-19 vaccines are not available ... it is morally acceptable to receive COVID-19 vaccines that have used cell lines from aborted fetuses in their research and production process."

If people have the option, they should choose the Moderna or Pfizer vaccines over the Johnson & Johnson vaccines. However, if that choice is not possible, it is morally permissible to receive the Johnson & Johnson vaccine.

The COVID-19 pandemic has caused great physical, emotional, and spiritual suffering throughout the world and has led to more than 2.5 million deaths. Being vaccinated can be an act of charity in service to the common good in stopping the spread of the virus. Nevertheless, abortion is an intrinsic evil that takes innocent life and is never morally permissible. We should continue to insist that pharmaceutical companies produce and test these vaccines without using abortion-derived cell lines. We pray that all people recognize the value of every human life.
